Security Companies

For your convenience, we have listed contract security companies that have provided service to clients and exhibitors in the past. This is by no means a representation of “exclusive” or “preferred” security companies and in no way should be construed as a recommendation on the part of Seattle Convention Center (SCC), staff or employees.

We ask that you please review your staffing needs with your SCC Event Manager before contracting with any company. This will allow us to explain our policies and limitations that contracted security companies are subject to within SCC and the procedures that must be followed. It will also allow us to use our knowledge of the facility to assist you with staffing and questions you may have that could influence your decision-making.

Armed security services may only be provided by sworn officers of the law, with advanced approval.
